SAN DIEGO ZOO

The Zoo is divided by a series of canyons into four mesas, extending from a main mesa which parallels Zoo Drive. Starting at the south end, the four mesas are lettered A, B, C and D. The canyons are lettered E, F and G, from the south.

MESAS

- A-MESA: At the front of this mesa is the Reptile House; with the area to the west grows over its open lizard pits, turtle and tortoise pens, and alligator and crocodile pools. Wegeforth, Bowl also is located here and features seal shows daily. Entrance to the Children's Zoo is south of the Bowl.
- B-MESA: Primates, including small monkeys, are shown here. Apes and baboons are housed on the earth hill of this mesa. Hundreds of miscellaneous birds also are exhibited here. The world's largest walk-through flying cages can be entered from this mesa. The south cage exhibits shore and marsh birds, while the cage on the north is a simulated rain forest.
- C-MESA: Elephants and rhinoceroses are featured here, also some particularly rare species of smaller animals, including Okapi from the Congo.
- D-MESA: In addition to a new, moated exhibit for giraffes, this mesa features hoisted animals, sheep, goats, antelope, deer, bison, moose and elk.

CANYONS

- E-CANYON: This is a wild bird sanctuary as well as exhibit area for ducks, geese, swans, ostriches and other birds on permanent display. Hippopotamuses also are exhibited in the pools; here, Cheetah can be seen in their cow "run" opposite the pools.
- F-CANYON: The lower end of this canyon features storks and cranes, while farther up are grounds for bears, lions and tigers, divided by a series of pools, for sea mammals.
- G-CANYON: Leopards, panthers, black panthers and jaguars are shown, also small cats, foxes, weasels and canines.
