

The United States recognized Jerusalem as Israel's capital in 2017 without labeling a position on the specific four classes of Israeli sovereignty. Other nations in Israel occupied by it. The West Bank is usually occupied with complex status subject to the 1993 Oslo Accords. Agreements concerning status to be determined through further negotiations. The status of the Golan Heights is final status issue to be resolved through negotiations. Boundary representation is not necessarily authoritative.